Collections for the Centennial Fund.

NEW YORK Sept. 29—Ex-Governor Bigler reports the centennial collection in this city to date at a quarter of a million dollars.

Dismissed for Official Corruption.

Capt. Henry Burden of the 12th police precinct tried before the police commissioners on charges of official corruption, was dismissed by unanimous vote. A number of police have been dismissed on same charges, their dismissal being brought about by the recent legislative investigation.

Fatal Railway Collision

CINCINNATI Sept 29—The Peoria express on the Hamilton and Dayton railroad leaving here at 7 P M yesterday was run into by a freight train at Hamilton, Ohio demolishing a "sleeper." John Shuler was killed and three others fatally injured.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 29—Further advices from the railroad accident at Hamilton state that the only persons injured were three men—John Shuler Andy Wertz and Henry Decmer—who were stealing a ride on the platform of the sleeper. When the freight train struck it, Wertz was killed instantly. Shuler died shortly after and Decmer is still living but with no hopes of recovery.

An Iron Company Insolvent.

ALBANY Sept. 29—The Jagger Iron Co whose iron works, &c., cost $361 000 is found in such condition as to produce fears that the stockholders have lost nearly all their investment. The heaviest creditors are Pennsylvania coal companies and they are secured by mortgages on the property. An investigation of affairs is now going on.

Massachusetts Republican Convention.

NEW YORK Sept. 29—Worcester (Mass.) dispatches announce that Vice President Wilson will be permanent chairman of the Republican convention to-day and indications point to the nomination of Charles Francis Adams for governor, and the renomination of Lt. Governor Knight.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept 29—The Republican state convention met at half past 11 o'clock and was called to order by W W Clapp of the Boston Journal, chairman of the state convention. The usual committees were appointed and Hon Henry Wilson chosen president. An informal ballot for candidate for governor resulted Rice 398, Loring 350 Adams [illegible]

On the first formal ballot Adams had [illegible] votes Loring 322 Rice 451.

Second ballot—Charles Francis Adams 250, Geo B Loring [illegible], Alex. H. Rice 437.

Result of third ballot is as follows: Whole number 958, necessary for choice 479, H. L. Pierce 96, Geo B Loring 99 Chas. F Adams 249 A H. Rice [illegible]. Rice's nomination was made unanimous.

Horatio G Knight was nominated for Lieutenant Governor by acclamation. Treasurer, Chas. Endicott; Auditor Julius L. Clarke; Attorney General Chas R. Train; Secretary of State H. B. Pierce.

Speech of Hon. Henry Wilson.

On taking the chair Wilson made a political reform and hard money speech. Following is his reference to Finances: In stress of war, when creditors and armies were unpaid, the government issued its promises to pay and made them legal tenders. When that enactment was made the government in good faith intended that these notes should be redeemed in gold or in interest bearing bonds but ten years have past and these promises to pay still remain unfulfilled. Greenbacks have indeed largely appreciated and we are justly proud of the credit of the nation in the markets of the world, but we do not and we cannot as Americans take pride in the singular fact that notes from an [illegible] bank in one of the British provinces can be sold in State street for a premium of more than 1 per cent over one of our legal tender notes with all the wealth of 40,000,000 of people behind it. The plighted faith of the nation, the honor of the government, the enduring interests of the people, of the rich and of the poor, of capital and labor all demand that the government by wise and prudent legislation and administration, should at the earliest practicable period make its notes equal, and convertible into gold.

Platform.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

The Republicans of Massachusetts in convention assembled, reaffirm their allegiance to the great purposes and principles of the Republican party and congratulate themselves that nothing in their records make it necessary for them to give pledge. They accept, and will abide by the settlement of the war the issues made in the 13th 14th and 15th amendments to the constitution of the United States and they congratulate the country that the Democratic party has at last formally professed to abandon its long, bitter, desperate but unavailing struggle, first to prevent and afterwards to overthrow the settlement. This profession is both the most humiliating confession of party folly ever extorted from a political party and a signal tribute to the invincible righteousness of Republican principles. The accusation that the Republican party seeks to keep alive old issues in order to avoid new ones, is unwarranted. One past, at least is secure. Able to review the record without remorse, we cheerfully commit it to history and with courage inspired by success in the noble cause we address ourselves to the new duties of this era of the nation. It is therefore declared that the Republican party of Massachusetts will support no man for official position whose personal character is not an absolute guaranty of fidelity in every public trust, and they invoke the condemnation of the ballot-box upon any candidate for office who fails of this test, whatever may be his party name or endorsements; that reform in the civil service is a work which no party can give over or slacken, and for the elevation and purification of that service the Republican party will continually and faithfully strive welcoming the co-operation of their opponents in whatever quarter it may appear to the end that every corrupt and unworthy officeholder without distinction of party may be driven from place; that official malfeasance may be hunted and punished where pursuit may lead or bear fall; that the Republicans of Massachusetts in the administration of state affairs recognizing no privilege of class, no antagonism between labor and capital but deprecating any attempt to [illegible] either whether on part of employed or employer will support such measures as shall develope the resources of labor and of capital alike, stimulating one and diffusing the other into channels of common prosperity as also all measures that regard the promotion of temperance, education good morals and equal rights to all American people, irrespective of sex; the maintenance of order the honest execution of existing laws, rigid economy and retrenchment in every department of the government of the commonwealth and the reduction of taxation. That reduction of national expenditure during the last fiscal year by more than $12,000,000 following a constant reduction during the whole period of the present administration, is gratifying proof of the earnest endeavor of the Republican party by economy frugality and fidelity of public service to lighten the public burden; that the president of the United States is entitled to the gratitude of the country for the independence, courage and good sense with which in an urgent crisis of affairs, he has assumed the great responsibility of his office and maintained the national honor and credit; that the Republican party hails with joy the many evidences of reconciliation in spirit and in purpose as well as of peace in fact, which have taken the place of disturbance in the restored states and makes haste to testify its [illegible] reconciliation with confidence and every proof of peace with proof of affection and regard. We have no more earnest desire than that our brethren at the South without distinction or exception of race or party may enjoy to the fullest extent those inestimable blessings to which we owe all our prosperity—universal free education and security of personal rights under local self government, without the necessity of any interference from abroad; that sound reason as well as the wise and unbroken usage of the republic, as illustrated by the example of Washington require the tenure of the chief magistracy of the United States should not exceed a second term; that an irredeemable currency is a national evil and when it continues beyond the necessity of its creation a national reproach; that the demoralization of values caused by the inflation of national currency while it tends to place the earnings of labor which depend on steadiness and uniformity in measure and value in the power of speculators in gold and credit, and also involves the demoralization of public and private conduct, credit and expenditure, speculation in place of thrift, ultimate prostration of trade and industry, fruit of increasing crime and dishonor and the whole train of evils which follow any departure from homely virtue that keeps its word and pays as it goes. Adjourned sine die.

Fight with the Sioux.

CHEYENNE, Sept. 29—John Phillips, just arrived here from Bridger's ferry midway between Forts Laramie and Fetterman states that Indians numbering about 60 [illegible] his hay train consisting of [illegible] men, 100 head work cattle and wagons corraled at the above named point on the 22d instant. They fought for two hours and a half. The Indians killed and drove off 30 head of cattle and 4 horses and wounded one man. Dennison and Dyne were in charge of the train and were cutting hay for the government on the south side of the Platte.

Boat Capsized—Brooklyn Pastor Drowned

GLEN COVE L I Sept. 29—Last night a boat with Rev Dr Geo B [illegible] late pastor of All Souls Church Brooklyn, Lewis Benjamine and three others capsized and the two former drowned.

Eclipse of the Sun

MANCHESTER N H Sept. 29—The sky was overcast this morning and a slight rain fell. Scientists had made very accurate preparations to make observations and secure photographs of the various phases of the eclipse of the sun but were only able to discern the shadowy outline of a ring as it approached and passed over. Although science gains but little enough was seen to verify almost to a second the predictions of astronomers.

All Quiet at Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Mass. Sept 29—There was no disturbances last night. Everything is remarkably quiet both around the mills and on the streets this morning. All mills running this forenoon show an increase in number of help. Every mill started to day for the first time running [illegible] looms half carding and all the spooling and other departments are well represented. At noon a small police force was stationed around the several mills to prevent crowds gathering to interfere with the help.

FALL RIVER, Mass Sept 29—All quiet. The mills through the city had an increase of operatives this afternoon. The contract of the manufacturers dated Sept. 1 1875 and which the help signed at that time is the same as the present except that the former had this addition: "In case of a turn out on a strike of any other mill or mills in Fall River we will continue at our work and faithfully perform the same as if no such strike or turn out occurred, neither standing in fear of or being governed by threats of violence from any person or persons."

A meeting will be held in the park to-morrow under the auspices of the Amalgamated Sons and will be addressed by Rev Jesse H Jones and other spinners and weavers. The association sent out delegates to solicit aid from cotton operatives in New England. The following telegram was received by Henry Sewey:

NEW YORK Sept. 29 1875

Preserve the brave workmen at Fall River. The united workmen offer you their sympathy.

J P McDONALD

Escape of a Prisoner.

NEW YORK Sept 29—Charles Degrath of this city, who was arrested last Monday on a requisition from the governor of Illinois, and handed over to the sheriff of Alexander county made his escape by jumping from the train near Altoona. The charge against him was perjury.

Meeting of Bondholders of the N. P. R. R.

NEW YORK Sept 29—At a meeting of the bondholders of the N P R R to-day the report of the purchasing committee was read. G W Cass receiver also submitted his report which was unanimously adopted after which directors were chosen for the ensuing year. [The names of the directors are found elsewhere—Ed.]

Speech of Gen. Grant before the Army of Tennessee.

DES MOINES Sept 29—At the Reunion of the Army of the Tennessee the President addressed the meeting as follows:

He said he had concluded to disappoint those who called him first in the expectation of getting a short speech and had jotted down some things he wished to say. He then expressed gratification in recalling the days when they had suffered together to preserve a government they believed worth fighting and even dying for. We will not said he deny to any of those who fought against us any privilege under the government which we claim for ourselves. On the contrary we welcome all such who come forward in good faith to help us build up the waste places and to perpetuate our institutions against all enemies as brothers in full interest with us in a common heritage but we are not prepared to apologize for the past. To guard against a recurrence of those days we must begin by guarding against every enemy preventing the prosperity of free republican institutions. I do not bring into this assemblage politics certainly not partisan politics but it is a fair subject for the soldiers in their deliberation to consider what may be necessary to secure the prize for which they battled. He urged the cultivation of intelligence among the people in regard to political matters and said if we are to have another contest in the near future of our national existence I predict the dividing line will not be Mason and Dixon's but between patriotism and intelligence on the one side, and superstition ambition and ignorance on the other. In this centennial year the work of strengthening the foundation of of the structure which was begun by our forefathers a hundred years ago at Lexington should be begun. Let us all labor for the perpetuity of free thought and speech, free press, pure morals unfettered religious sentiments and equal rights and the privileges of all men irrespective of nationality color or religion. Let us encourage free schools and resolve that not one dollar appropriated to them shall be applied to support any sectarian school; resolved that neither state nor nation shall support institutions save those where every child in the land may get a common school education unmixed with atheist, pagan or sectarian teachings. Leave the matter of religion to the family, and keep church and state forever separate. With these safeguards I believe the battles which created the Army of the Tennessee will not have been fought in vain.

The president's speech was greeted with applause, repeated again and again.

General Sherman closed the speaking for the night with a humorous and short speech in which he said he wished the speeches made here to-night could be printed in full and scattered broadcast through the south to show the people there how the ex soldiers of the north felt toward them.

Wool Market.

NEW YORK Sept 29—Boston wool—California spring continues to meet with good demand with sales at 20@[illegible] per pound as to quality; pulled wools quiet at prices ranging from [illegible] to 50c per pound for amber and X.

Additional Particulars of the Texas Storm.

GALVESTON Sept 29—The steamship to day brings the following additional from Indianola: Along the entire route are broken wrecks of houses. At Matagorda Island but one house is left standing. All at Saluria are gone. At Indianola nothing but ruin destruction and desolation is seen. Houses broken down and piled on top of each other. The most notable is the Episcopal church lying on the bank of a bayou. It formerly stood eight blocks up in the heart of the city. There are fifteen bayous which were cut by the waves from the bay into the city. But twelve houses are left standing all more or less damaged.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Fears for the Safety of the Black Hills Commission.

CHICAGO Sept 29—A Washington special says the officials at the Indian department are inclined to think the commissioners to negotiate the purchase of the Black Hills are in danger. The constant reports now of the bad temper and irritability of the Sioux lead those best acquainted with their character to expect some treachery, or an outbreak directed at the commissioners. The manner of dealing with the Sioux is in great measure responsible for this feeling. The peace policy is construed as only timidity on the part of the government while the swindling of agents has given the Indians a poor opinion of the good faith of the whites. In view of the present disturbed state of feeling additional troops will be ordered to the vicinity of Red Cloud agency. The present force consists of three companies of cavalry and four of infantry enough to irritate the Indians without harassing them in a restricting way. The feeling of uncertainty as to the safety of the commission has taken such definite form that it may be expected they will be temporarily recalled from the place where they are at present in such danger of losing their scalps.

Agricultural Report.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—The agricultural report for August and September gives the condition when harvested for all states as [illegible] per cent. The quality is poorer than for several years. The oat crop is superior in quantity and quality, and is mostly secured in good condition. The barley average for the country is 88.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The War Cloud Thickens.

VIENNA, Sept 29—Belgrade papers publish alarming reports that the Turks are preparing to attack the Servian frontier.

BELGRADE Sept 29—It is reported that the Sublime Porte has notified Servia that it is about to occupy the Island of Little Redoubt in the river Drina which is claimed by Servia. The Servian government opposes the project and it is unofficially announced that Servian troops on the frontier near Visch have received reinforcements in that neighborhood.

LONDON Sept 30—A special from Ragusa says the insurgents of Herzegovina refuse to treat directly with the Porte in any case. They insist that a European commissioner delegated by the powers make guarantee of treaty. A Vienna dispatch says it is the general opinion there that Turkey is trying to provoke a conflict. It is stated that a majority of the skuptchina have offered the prince of Milan by secret vote a grant of [illegible] ducats. Portions of the road to Trebigne have been blown up so that the Turks are prevented from transporting provisions. The insurgents intend to cut the road from Klek in a similar manner. It is reported a conscription of horses has been ordered in Servia.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Affairs of the Bank of California.

Payments are still being made on assessment levied on guarantee fund of the bank syndicate. It is expected that the whole amount will be paid in to day. The board of directors at a meeting yesterday took no action with regard to fixing the day for opening though it is understood that Saturday will be decided upon. It is rumored that at the meeting of stockholders on Tuesday next Sharon will be elected president of the bank but nothing authoritative is known to that effect. As the syndicate now controls a majority of the stock the election will undoubtedly be in its hands and the choice of Sharon as president of the syndicate may be indicative of some ground for the present rumor though inquiry fails to confirm it. The Alta this morning states that the liabilities of the bank are only ten million instead of thirteen or fourteen, as heretofore generally mentioned but on application to a member of the board of directors the statement does not meet with confirmation.

Will of W C. Ralston.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 29—The last will and testament of W C Ralston was filed for probate to-day. It is brief and bequeaths after the payment of just debts all property, real and personal to his wife without restriction, leaving the provision for the children to her affection. John D Fry Wm Sharon, Andrew J Ralston and Thos Brown are appointed executors without bonds.

Failure of Chas. Clayton & Co.

Chas Clayton & Co grain merchants corner of Front and Clay streets suspended yesterday. There is no doubt their embarrassment is merely temporary in its nature. The firm have assets in excess of liabilities, the suspension being caused merely by lack of coin in hand to settle accounts coming due. It is probable they will soon be going on as usual.

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 29—As regards the failure of Chas Clayton & Co yesterday, assistance was promptly offered by friends to tide over collection day but it was declined. At the annual settlement in May the assets of the house were $150 000 over all liabilities but they were much scattered consisting largely of advances to farmers and for wheat bags delivered. Unfortunately a large portion of their clientage had poor crops and were unable to square up any of their old indebtedness. It was as much as many of them could do to meet the advance made on them on the current season's business. The firm banked with the Bank of California and the suspension of that bank of course added further obstacles in the way of their business. It is well known that during the past thirty days the banks have had all they could do to accommodate their regular patrons and it has been almost impossible to get money on grain certificates. Some of the creditors knowing the firm was connected with the Bank of California have undoubtedly been more exacting than they would have been under other circumstances and these demands have caused an unusual drain on the cash resources of the house. There have been no unfortunate speculations in produce and the chief difficulty has been a failure to collect assets that are over due. A meeting of their creditors will take place to-morrow afternoon and from assurances made the firm anticipate no trouble in continuing business without interruption.

Indictments Dismissed

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 29—In the municipal court to day the indictments against Hellriegel and Widmer former deputies of Buckley [illegible] collector were dismissed on motion of the prosecuting attorney. They testified against Buckley thereby implicating themselves and the case against them was dismissed on showing that their testimony was in the nature of state's evidence.

LETTER FROM SEATTLE

SEATTLE Sept 28 1875

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Our new city council consisting of the following gentlemen: Bailey Gatzert Esq mayor, Messrs J Leary, J W Hall J Waddell G W Hall B Murphy J R Robbins and J Settle—passed on Tuesday evening a very important order, being an act placing the sum of $1 200 at the disposal of the committee on fire, for the purchase of a fire engine including necessary hose carriage etc. This sum will not be one third of an amount sufficient for purchasing a good steamer, but with this initial $1 200 to lead off the list it will no doubt be an easy matter to secure the remainder through private subscription. A fire engine is something vitally necessary to the security of this town, as the business part of it is so situated that should a fire get well under way before being discovered no human power, with the present facilities would be able to prevent total destruction. Owing to this fact of situation, and entire lack of an organized fire department rates of insurance are enormously high and in some instances insurance is difficult to obtain at any per cent. It may be well to state in justice to all former councilmen that there has never been, up to the present time, a single building of any description destroyed by fire within the city limits and this act may have had its origin in a very narrow escape from a general conflagration which occurred about two months since.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The ministers and members of the Congregational church of this place are making very cheering efforts toward liquidating the indebtedness of that society. Two weeks ago that organization was indebted to the amount of $1,[illegible]00, which has all been raised excepting $400. The Rev Mr Atkinson is here now assisting in this good work. On last Sunday evening he preached an excellent sermon in that church which was listened to by a large and interested concourse of people. It is thought that by the end of the present week the remaining sum will be secured, and the neat edifice belonging to that organization be freed from all embarrassments.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE

Hon W R Dunbar, G W C T and lecturer for Oregon, paid our city a flying visit last week. He was prevailed upon by the friends of temperance to deliver a lecture upon that subject in the M E church, which was well attended. The lecture was very interesting, and showed that Mr Dunbar's whole heart is in this noble work.

TERRITORIAL UNIVERSITY, ETC.

The fall term of tuition at the territorial university began a short time since under most flattering circumstances. The attendance is larger than at any time previous for many years, there being between seventy and eighty scholars regularly attending the university, which is receiving the assiduous attention of the principal, the Rev G F Whitworth. All the other schools—three in number—are crowded with children, and in a most flourishing condition.

SHIPPING ETC

The little propeller Favorite, brought from Portland, is on the ways, undergoing repairs, which will soon be completed, when she will go into a general towing business. The propeller Teaser is employed in running the mail route from Port Townsend to Bellingham bay. She was here a short time ago, having some repairing done. The Otter the last arrival from Portland, after receiving a large water tank and a general overhauling, has taken her place on the river, and is now engaged in towing the Renton Coal Company's barges to and from Seattle and the mine. The Zephyr, which carries the mail to Snohomish on Monday, and runs to Olympia twice during the week, after returning, was laid up last week getting her wheel repaired. Her place on the route was taken by the Fannie Lake, also a stern wheeler. As her wheel has been properly doctored she is again running as usual. The bark Oriola was towed to sea on yesterday, with a cargo of Seattle coal. Four vessels are lying here waiting their turn at the Seattle Co's wharf and will probably carry away 4,500 tons of coal. The bark Montana which is one of them arrived here last Wednesday night, with 2 107 packages of freight for Seattle and 40 tons for other Sound ports. The P M S S Co's steamship Salvador arrived here last Friday night from San Francisco bringing some freight and a large passenger list for Seattle and Portland. She proceeded to Tacoma after discharging Seattle freight returning here immediately, where she took 200 tons of coal passengers etc., and sailed for San Francisco via Victoria, on last Monday.

The steamship Pacific arrived here last night from San Francisco with a large freight and passenger list. She sailed from Tacoma this morning, returning here to-night or to-morrow she will take on coal, passengers and freight, and proceed to Victoria and San Francisco.

The bark J B Bell, to load with Seattle coal arrived here Monday morning from San Francisco. Also the topsail schooner W H Meyer arrived here from the same port this evening bringing freight for Seattle. The bark Wandered arrived here on last Saturday morning to load with Seattle coal.

There are [illegible] vessels on the way to this port for cargoes of coal and lumber; now in port, one ship, four barks and one topsail schooner.

CAPITAL NOTES.

We have been furnished with the following card which speaks for itself:

A picked nine from Salem hereby challenges any nine in the State of Oregon or Washington Territory to play a single game of base ball during State Fair week for the championship of the state and premium if offered. Parties interested in the acceptance of the above challenge will address

JAS C McCULLY, Salem Or

Among the latest of social events of the season was the marriage last evening of J L Coldwell and Miss Fannie Barker both of this city. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's mother, Rev J H Babcock of the Episcopal Church officiating. The Salem String Band favored the young couple with a serenade at the conclusion of the ceremony and their friends numerous as they are unite with us in wishing the happy couple a long happy and prosperous life, their future troubles we trust being only little ones.

We regret to learn that Mart. L. Chamberlin is confined to his room by a somewhat serious illness and hope soon to chronicle his convalescence.

WIDE AWAKE

THE LORD'S PRAYER

Here is something curious for you. It is the Lord's Prayer in the English of former times and it shows how the language has changed.

OLD ENGLISH FORMS OF THE LORD'S PRAYER

A D 1258

Fader ure in heune, halewide beoth thi neume, cumen thi kuneriche, thi wille beoth idon in heune and in erthe. The euryche dawe bried gif ous thilk dawe. And worzif ure dettes as vi vorzifen ure dettoures. And lene ous noght into temptation, bot delyvor ous of uvel. Amen.

A D 1300

Fadir oure in hevene, halewyd be thi name, thi kingdom come. Thi wille be done as in hevene and in erthe. Oure ech dayes bred give us to day. And forgive us oure dettes as we forgive our dettoures. And lede us not into temptation, bote delyvere us of yvel. Amen.

A D 1[illegible]

Our father which art in heauen sanctified be thy name. Let thy kingdom come. Thy will be done as in heauen in earth also. Giue vs to day our supersubstantial bread. And lede vs not into temptation but deliuer vs from euill. Amen.

A D 1611

Our father which art in heauen, hallowed be thy Name. Thy kingdome come. Thy will be done in earth as it is in heauen. Giue vs this day our dayly bread. And forgiue vs our debts as we forgiue our debtors. And lead vs not into temptation but deliuer vs from euill. For thine is the kingdome, and the power and the glory for euer. Amen.

WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

Third Day.

In the haste of making up my notes of yesterday I overlooked all mention of the annual address by Jos Gaston Esq., of Gaston. The address was somewhat out of the usual line and gave a great deal of satisfaction both on account of the style and manner of its delivery. The speaker first alluded to the first day of the society, and took a hasty glance at its small beginning and its steady growth ever since accompanied by the corresponding improvement of the county, then he took a prophetic view of the advance to be expected in the near future. Closing this theme the speaker asked: What are the causes that farmers are not paid as well as others for corresponding labor, and glided thence into an attack on monopolies, rings, thieving administrations and corrupt officials, down to a matter of a Federal official saving $35 000 in Oregon out of an appropriation of $70 000 without violating any law. These remarks though hardly to be called agricultural, elicited considerable applause in a quiet way from many of the hearers. So much for yesterday. To-day opened, as usual, with the arrival of

CROWDED TRAINS

From both ways. Indeed I heard some complaint at there being no more accommodations on the trains. The grounds to day have been well filled, crowded indeed for a local fair. The ladies were here in great numbers and as usual expressed their appreciation of the races in the best of terms. The attendance is shown by the fact that the gate receipts are already in excess of the entire week of the last fair.

This forenoon was occupied in the distributions of awards, and until noon a good deal of interest was taken in the display of stock, but this afternoon the judges have been left alone in their glory. They have been so busy, and are yet so busy that nothing can be done in the way of announcing premiums until to-morrow when I will exhaust that subject at one dose.

At 1 P M a trotting match—mile heats three in five free to all—was announced but the crowd which filled the grand stand and stood all around it in the hot sun were kept until full two before the horses were sent off. J J Welch named blk m Mollie B Acker named b h Eph Maynard. The mare drew the pole and took the start freely, reaching the back stretch with just about the lead which her advantage had given her. Down the stretch she drew steadily ahead, and turned into the home four lengths ahead. Eph here began to come down to his work, and was close on to the quarters of the mare when she passed under the stand winner of the heat in 2 49½.

The second heat was an exact repetition of the first. Time, 2 47¼.

The third ditto. Time, 2 48½.

This race gave a great deal of satisfaction to the spectators, by the good, honest work done by both nags. It was followed by a race for all entered animals mile heats for a $20 purse offered by H Boyd, Esq. There were four entries and the race was won easily by Bigham's Nixon in 2 17 and 2:07.

Messrs. E E Stewart & Sons entered their fine cattle, but were disappointed in obtaining cars for shipping them, so that Mr Reed had an easy time in some of the departments where they would have competed for the honors.

The pavilion is filled up very well, and I propose to devote a future letter almost exclusively to that subject, as there are many articles.

The sprinklers of the society are constantly at work and manage to keep the footgrounds inside the enclosure in very comfortable condition, but the roads to town and to the stations are in a most dusty plight.

The horsemen made a proposition, which has been accepted by the society that the two-mile heats race for to-morrow be changed to mile heats three in five, an additional $100 be offered, and no money goes unless they make the BEST TIME IN OREGON!

Ever made at a fair. This will make an interesting race and ought to bring out the lovers of horseflesh who are legion in full force.

The programme for to-morrow's racing is as follows: 1 P M—running race for 2 year olds one-half mile and repeat $120. 2 P M—trotting race for horse, mare or gelding mile heats 3 in 5, $200 second money $100, (on condition of beating 2 40); 3 P M—running race for horse mare or gelding, one half mile heats $400.

COLUMBIA RIVER VS WINNEMUCCA

The following from the Silver City (Owyhee) Avalanche, pertains to matters in which Portland has a vital interest, and we commend it to the careful consideration of all her business men. The trade of the various mining camps of Idaho Territory is certainly worth some effort on the part of Portland to regain it. The Avalanche says:

The unjust discrimination in regard to freight charges on the Central Pacific Railroad is a source of great complaint among the merchants as well as consumers in this portion of Idaho territory. Our merchants are compelled to pay some fifty six cents more per hundred pounds on general merchandise from San Francisco to Winnemucca, than our neighbors who ship by way of Kelton, which is about 250 miles further east. This is unjust in the highest degree and shows a meanness on the part of the railroad company which we think will be circumvented. The plain facts of the case are these: Our people are compelled to pay about one third more on their freight from San Francisco to Winnemucca than if they shipped it to Kelton which is 250 miles further. The exorbitant and unjust charges of the railroad company will certainly drive the people of this portion of the territory to obtain their supplies by way of the Columbia river, which they can do much cheaper and without any inconvenience by ordering their goods a few days sooner than usual. Besides if the whole sale dealers of Portland will sell as cheap as those of San Francisco they will get the trade of this country and San Francisco can thank the Central Pacific railroad for the loss. The principal merchants and business men of Silver City together with some from Fairview and South Mountain, held a meeting in regard to the matter yesterday and after discussing the subject unanimously adopted the following preamble and resolutions:

SILVER CITY I T, Sept 22 1875

WHEREAS, We, the undersigned merchants and business men of Silver City, Idaho deeming the present discriminating rates of freights from San Francisco to Winnemucca unjust to the people of this portion of the territory, inasmuch as we are now and have been required to pay about fifty six (56) cents per one hundred (100) pounds on general merchandise more than our neighbors who ship by the way of Kelton; therefore be it

Resolved 1st, That we take the necessary steps to contract the shipment of all freights destined for this portion of the territory by way of the Columbia river.

Resolved 2d, That each merchant and tradesman doing business in Fairview and South Mountain be solicited to co operate in the consummation of this plan.

Resolved 3d, That this meeting adjourn to meet again on the 6th day of October, 1875.

OREGON

Jacksonville thinks she is old and populous enough to have a town hall.

Dense smoke obscures everything in the vicinity of Jacksonville, and forest fires in the vicinity are raging extensively.

Sheriff S. B. Lakin, of Lane county, conveyed to the asylum, on the 25th inst., Thos Hendricks lately from Nebraska.

Mullen & Strong have commenced putting up furnaces at their cinnabar ledge on Little Applegate in Jackson county, to extract the quicksilver.

Mr John Wolford near Silverton, has raised and cured about 4 000 pounds of hops this season. Mr J Stormer is also engaged in raising hops and has cured this season 1,200 pounds.

Knapp Burrell & Co., of Portland filed in the office of the secretary of state on the 24th inst. as a trade mark the word 'Pacific,' and claim the absolute use, name of and title to said trade mark in their business.

The Jacksonville Sentinel says: "Stephen H Meek a brother of the celebrated Joseph Meek the Oregon pioneer, is at present in Cinnabar district Trinity county, and has very good prospects in the quicksilver line."

R. H. Rounds who has carried on an extensive farm near Junction for several years, as well as speculating in wheat and agricultural implements, has gone into bankruptcy. His liabilities are estimated at $35 000; assets, $25 000.

One St Clair sentenced from Multnomah county, completed his term of service in the penitentiary last Tuesday. Immediately upon his release from durance vile, Sheriff Williams, of Polk county, rearrested him upon a charge of larceny committed prior to his incarceration. He was taken over to Dallas and will most likely have to languish in the Polk county jail preparatory to another term in the state institution.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

A $98 nugget was brought down from Dease creek by a miner.

Eight Sisters of Charity arrived from Canada on Sunday to take charge of the St. Joseph's hospital.

The steamship Pacific, Capt. Howell, with 210 passengers and 537 tons of freight arrived at Victoria, from San Francisco, on Sunday.

Eighty-two bushels of wheat are said to have been harvested from one acre of land belonging to Sir James Douglas on James bay.

It is said that young Gorham, second officer of the mail steamship Salvador, who drowned himself in Victoria harbor the day after the failure of the Bank of California, had not a single dollar on deposit in that or any other bank.

A Mr Smith, who has passed a few weeks on San Juan river (a mountain stream that empties into the straits near the entrance), returned to Victoria last Saturday with a nugget of gold that weighs $24. He found it in a ravine. There is, no doubt plenty more of the same sort hard by—but where?

Major Gen. Smythe and party are daily expected at Cache creek. Information was received at Ottawa on the 13th of September that Major General Smythe and party were met at the junction of the Elk and Tail rivers, near Edmonton, the party proceeding via Fort McLeod to Fort Shaw, where they arrived on the 12th inst., Major Gen Smythe there met Gen Gibbon, the United States commandant at Montana.

THE SAD STORY OF MR. WISCH.—It is not a pleasing prospect which Mr Wisch, of Warsaw, Illinois, has before him, namely, to be licked in every town in the United States. This is the sad story of Mr. Wisch. Some time ago he came into possession of $100, which is claimed by Mr S D Mathews of Alexandria, and which Mr Mathews asserts he was swindled out of by Wisch. Shortly after the transaction, whatever it might have been, Mr Wisch went to Alexandria, where he was promptly thrashed by Mr Mathews. Wisch then returned to Warsaw, whither Mr Mathews, after settling his bill with the justice of the peace, followed him. In Warsaw likewise he thrashed his enemy, and next morning made it square with the Warsaw tribunal. The other day Wisch went to Keokuk, and thither, too, went Mathews, and mauled his victim publicly for the third time. Justice was easily appeased the next day, although Mathews announced in court his intention to accompany Wisch to St. Louis and whip him again. His programme, he says, is to lick his enemy in every town the latter enters. He will be careful not to thrash him twice in the same town, for he allows that he is not a vindictive man, and once in a place is enough. Wisch is rapidly losing his taste for travel under these circumstances. We wish Mr Wisch much joy of his hundred dollars.—Chicago Times

CASTOR OIL

She had had her mind made up for two or three days that the boy needed some castor oil, but she knew that she must approach him gently. She placed the bottle where he could not see it, and when he turned up his nose she said:

"It's just like honey, my darling."

He seemed to doubt her word and she continued:

"If you'll take some I'll let you go to the circus."

"How much?" he cautiously inquired.

"Oh only a spoonful, just one spoonful," she replied as she uncorked the bottle.

"And you'll give me some sugar, besides?" he asked.

"Of course I will—a big lump."

He waited until she began pouring from the bottle and then asked:

"And you'll give me ten cents too?"

"Yes of course."

"And you'll buy me a shoo fly kite?" he went on seeing his advantage.

"I guess so."

"No kite—no ile," he said as he drew back.

"Well, I'll buy you a kite," she replied filling the spoon clear up.

"And a velocipede?"

"I'll think of it."

"You can't think no castor ile down me," he exclaimed looking around for his hat.

"Here—I will or I'll tell your father to, and I know he will. Come now, swallow it down."

"And you'll buy me a goat?"

"Yes."

"And two hundred marbles?"

"Yes. Now take it right down."

"And a coach dog?"

"I can't promise that."

"All right—no dog no ile!"

"Well, I'll ask your father."

"And you'll buy me a pony?"

"Oh, I couldn't do that. Now be a good boy and swallow it down."

"Oh yes I'll swallow that stuff I will!" he said, as he clapped on his hat. "You may fool some other boy with a circus ticket and a lump of brown sugar but it'll take a hundred dollar pony to trot that castor ile down my throat!"

And he went out to see if the neighbor's cat had been caught in the dead fall he set for her.

HER GHOST

He guards me and guides me with faultless devotion,
I lean on his love with reviving surrender;
He moves me and moulds me as moonlight the ocean
When deep in the spell of its delicate splendor!

In him all my happiness rises and closes,
He wins all allegiance my soul can deliver;
His love is to mine what the stem to the roses,
The wing to the bird, or the rain to the river!

And yet there are days when his matchless affection,
Though free as of old from all shadow of error,
Can waken in my spirit a dreamy dejection,
A vague discontent and intangible terror!

And death has no part in the fear that I cherish,
My heart has its own mystic process of proving
That love, when we see it so earthily perish,
Leaps up into loftier powers of loving!

No death cannot force me to tremble or falter
From [illegible] more darksome and dread is engendered;
Will time with its tyrannous changes not alter
The passion that now is so peerlessly tendered?

Ah! what if this worship should wane and grow little!
Should fade from the fervor I deem so delicious!
Though strong are fidelity's bonds they are brittle,
Though love may be loyal, it may be capricious!

Oh this is the ghost that in ceaseless persistence
Pursues me with cold subtle whispers of scorning,
And over the dearest delights of existence
Upraises one merciless finger of warning!

THE TERRITORIES.

There are only four Presbyterian pastors in New Mexico.

The government wants to buy 83 cavalry horses at Fort Walla Walla.

Judge Wingard has accepted an invitation to deliver the annual address at the Walla Walla fair.

The sum of $5,000 has been subscribed at Olympia to the fund for building a wharf to deep water.

The 'stone age' of Idaho Territory will be represented at the Centennial by several tons of specimens.

The Lingards are playing to crowded houses in Salt Lake. The Beecher Tilton sketches take immensely.

The common council of Seattle has voted money to purchase a first-class fire engine, hose and other apparatus.

Eight emigrant wagons arrived at Walla Walla last week just across the plains. Emigrant trains reach there almost daily.

Information from Rocky Bar says that the health of Judge Whitson is much better, and that he will arrive at Boise City in a few days.

The Wyoming legislature will be divided, politically, as follows: Council, 2 Republicans and 11 Democrats. House, 0 Republicans and 18 Democrats.

Their names are Chaves and Montes, their homes in New Mexico, and they are to be hung in the old fashioned way next month, for the murder of De Chamara.

George Shaw, an Ogden hopeful, seven years of age, swung on his father's big gate until it came off the hinges and crushed his skull, death ensuing shortly afterward.

Capt S Calhoun took ten tons of barley from the Swinomish to Seattle lately, which he disposed of at a cent and a half a pound. He took home with him 8 000 grain sacks.

The Puget Sound Salmon Company, at Point Elliott, have already between two and three hundred barrels of salmon on Yesler's wharf, at Seattle, ready for shipment to San Francisco.

Mrs G. H. Woodworth, a cultivated and wide-awake lady of Las Animas, has been appointed centennial agent for southeastern Colorado, and is gathering up curiosities for the big show.

A young man named Tow was suspected with taking a ride out of Boise City on a horse belonging to an honest granger of Boise valley. When overtaken he had the horse in Tow sure enough.

A German tramp, named C. Myers, who was recently arrested in Idaho, on suspicion of having murdered a fellow-traveler, was found dead in his cell at Salmon City, the other day, with the arteries of his arm severed.

At a meeting of the Idaho Jockey Club the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. H Bush president, J B Oldham, L R. Walter, R L Short, Earl Race, H. C Branstetter, vice presidents, C Himrod, secretary, H. C Branstetter, treasurer.

This is the kind of justice they have in Dakota Territory. Two years ago, W. P. Wintermute, a Yankee banker, willfully murdered Col. Edward McCook, secretary of the territory. Last year the prisoner was sentenced to prison for ten years—a pitiful sentence for the enormity of his crime, but lately, in a new trial, a jury has been found to acquit him.

The rhapsodist of the Cheyenne Leader, speaking of proposed improvements in that burgh, says: "The boulevards will be laid in elliptical form, and the walks lined with umbrageous trees. Birds of song will nestle amid the foliage, and the fragrance of sweet flowers will load the air. The playing fountains will reflect the sunbeams in miniature rainbows, and everything will be lovely about the railroad grounds."

A LaConner correspondent of the R B Mail, in referring to the improved business aspects of that locality, says: "It is gratifying to look at the fleet of schooners that are now constantly going in and out at this place, bringing lumber, merchandise, etc., and taking away grain, hay and produce. With new wharf and warehouses, and lumber on the ground for a new public hall, the town of LaConner is assuming a commercial importance that is worthy of the growing prosperity of this farming locality."

Here is something wonderful. It is about some Indians who are honest and not lazy. About ten miles from the mouth of Cataract creek, a tributary of the Big Colorado, in Arizona, is the Supai Indian village, numbering three hundred persons who have language of their own, and are very thrifty farmers, keeping some two hundred acres of land under cultivation. They do not associate with other Indians, and, never having been consigned to a reservation, they are singularly free from the laziness and dissipation of the modern red man.

The Olympia jail-breakers, Schwabhousen and Jones are still at large, and apparently in no hurry to leave the country. On Sunday morning they visited the house of Mr. Fred Pores, in Chimacum, and helped themselves to provisions, and Sunday night they made their appearance in Port Discovery with a shotgun, since which time they have not been heard from. It is surmised that they may be on their way to Dungeness. However this may be, parties have been authorized to take them, dead or alive, at $100 a head, which may result in their capture.

Alaska may be worth the $7 000 000 paid for her after all. A practical miner has been exploring the country, and reports that he has found a very rich silver mining district—one of the richest in the world in natural indications. His report is very ample in its details, and gives a most glowing description of the untold wealth of this newly discovered region. The discovery of these mines involves also an international question, as since then some British Canadians have come in and squatted upon the territory claiming that it lies within the British dominion. The collector of the port at Sitka is decidedly of opinion that the mines lie in American soil. This latter point has been submitted to the state department for investigation.

Several wagons loaded with grain left Jacksonville for Fort Klamath last week.

THURSDAY MORNING SEPT 30 1875

A WORD TO FAIR MANAGERS

The bit of sarcasm indulged in yesterday by our special correspondent at the Washington county fair is not without a moral There has been a studied effort on the part of managers of our state and county fairs to cater to the tastes of all classes, and afford the kind of attractions that would be relished by all who attend these annual gatherings Sometimes, however, they have failed, and hardly an occasion of the kind passes but some go home declaring that it was badly managed, that there should have been more of this and less of that, that too much attention was devoted to some branch and too little to another There has always been, we believe, since fairs were first held—in the West, at any rate,—a sort of strife between the lovers of the "turf" and those who "take no stock" in fast horses, the former claiming too much, and the latter hardly allowing enough, in the matter of trials of speed It has been in many cases a bone of contention, and not seldom has been the source of ill feeling, and worked disastrously to the interests of the entire occasion. Though all men do not, and perhaps none ought to, wager money on these trials of speed, all admirers of horse flesh like to witness them, and one of the chief attractions would be wanting were they abolished The managers of our fairs ought, however, to give the attention due to other departments of the exhibition and while the importance of these departments is as great as that of horse racing, it will not take their place, but that variety which is the "spice of life," at county fairs will be kept in view Are there not some departments that might be made more prominent at our county and state fairs than they are under the present system We make these suggestions not in a critical or captious spirit, but to awaken thought.

THE HARVEST HOME

No country from which we have any reports for the season, has produced such abundant wheat crops this year, as Oregon, and though a few drawbacks in the way of a late spring, and excessively and unusually warm weather in July gave farmers a little fright, and perhaps diminished the yield a few thousand bushels in the aggregate, the weather for harvesting, as a rule, has been very propitious and the last sheaf is now about garnered, and the thrifty husbandmen of this favored land takes up the glad refrain and "shouts his harvest home"

The estimates made early in the season were cut down after the warm weather in July set in, but as the harvest and threshing progressed, the figures were again advanced, and it is now believed that the surplus for export will be fully as much as has been at any time expected. Five million bushels of wheat, to say nothing of the various other productions of our soil, in a State with a total population of a little over 100,000, is certainly a showing which should encourage our own people and attract the attention of others to the great advantages which Oregon possesses in the production of this great money crop The price, which now seems to be a little depressed, is still better than last year when the crop was less, and there is every indication full figures will be the rule the year round, or that the average will be quite as good or even better than present ruling rates These facts give our State an assurance of progress and prosperity which she could not have if the assurance was based on anything less tangible, permanent, or perpetual than our broad prairies and fertile vales

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD

This corporation, in which our people have so large an interest reorganized yesterday at their office by the preferred stockholders electing the following board of directors

Johnston Livingston, of New York
J Kennedy Moorhead, of Pittsburgh, Pa
Federick Billings, of Vermont
J N Hutchinson of Pennsylvania
George Stark, of Boston
John M. Dennison, of Baltimore
E M. Lewis, of Philadelphia
G W Cass, of New York
C B Wright, of Philadelphia
B. P. Cheney, of Boston
Joseph Dilworth, of Pittsburgh
Charlemagne Tower, of Pennsylvania
Fraley Smith, of Philadelphia

This is almost an entirely new management, and are all men of integrity and exalted financial standing To Messrs Billings, Moorhead and Livingston it is mainly due that the reorganization was effected under the foreclosure proceedings at so little expense to the stockholders and with such wonderful promptness. It is just what we expected the bondholders would do when they got the management of the road into their own hands, that is, exclude from all management the ringsters and grabbers who had brought the name of the Northern Pacific railroad into contempt It will now, we predict, start on a new era of prosperity.

THE ALSEA LANDS RELEASED FROM INDIAN RESERVATION

Hon Owen Wade, register of the land office of Oregon City, hands in the following for publication

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON D C Sept 17 1875

Register and Receiver U S Land Office, Oregon City Oregon—GENTLEMEN I hereby call your attention to an act of congress approved March 3d last (Stat at Large, vol 18 p 446) setting aside for the Siletz and Alsea Indians in Oregon a tract of land described therein, and releasing the balance of the Coast Range reserve

You will please make proper note of the same upon the files of your office Very respectfully,

W H CURTIS
Acting Commissioner

The following are the boundaries of the permanent reservation as established by the Act of Congress above referred to "Beginning at a point two miles south of the Siletz agency, thence west to the Pacific ocean, thence north along said ocean to the mouth of Salmon river, thence due east to the western boundary of the eighth range of townships west of the Willamette meridian, thence south with said boundary to a point due east of the place of beginning thence west to the place of beginning

The Hon Stewart L Woodford of New York, is making Republican speeches in Ohio and an incident showing his readiness at repartee occurred at one of his recent meetings During the speech a drunken man in the audience arose and in a thick-toned way said. 'See here, Mister, I am one of them fellers that wants more money." Woodford dropped the thread of his argument and pointing to the man, said "Well my friend, you only serve to point the moral to my tale Now if you would resume work and inflate less with whisky you would soon have more money The crowd saw the point of the application and amidst loud cheering the over-stimulated man sat down badly scattered

The Iowa State Press, democratic organ, discusses the speakership of congress in the following pungent vein "We do not hesitate to say that the election of Mr Randall to the speakership would destroy his party, and it ought to It will lose us the next presidential election and it ought to It will send both old parties into decay and it ought to It will strengthen the Independent movement which this year has yielded to a more pronounced Democratic leadership and make of it a victorious party, and it ought to"

The Philadelphia Times says that ex governor Bigler "really preferred" not to be the Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania after the adoption of the inflation platform, as he dreaded the desperate aggressive campaign which the supremacy of the currency issue requires

Hon Galusha A Grow, of Pennsylvania who formerly filled a large space in the political field as a member and speaker of the house of representatives, has been in Texas for a number of years, but has concluded to resume his residence in Pennsylvania

The Yankton (Dakota) Herald hints that money was freely used to secure the acquittal of P P Wintermute, and that mob law may yet "deal out swift and terrible retribution to the red handed murderer"

Senator Dawes of Massachusetts has declined the invitation of the state central committee to preside at the state republican convention

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 30, 1875

CITY.

COLUMBIA BAR CROSSED IN A SMALL BOAT.—To the second mate of the ship Florida, two sailors from that vessel and two from the American ship McNear, belong the credit of having effected one of the most daring [illegible] across the Columbia river bar which has probably ever been accomplished on the coast. These brave tars performed the perilous feat of crossing the bar from the open sea to Fort Stevens in a common Whitehall boat On Wednesday morning—two weeks ago yesterday—the ship McNear hove in view of the head [Cape Hancock] and drew as near the outer buoy as was deemed safe The vessel continued to lay outside some time waiting for the tug and pilot, but in vain Capt Carter concluded, on Friday morning, as no tug had put in an appearance, to send some of his men in a small boat to Astoria to apprise the owners [illegible] of the Brenham and Astoria that a vessel was lying off and impatiently waiting to come over He was a total stranger, and little dreamed of the danger attending such a voyage. Everything looked clear and smooth from the open sea beyond, and Captain Carter very naturally supposed the passage over the bar could be accomplished without risk During the time the McNear was lying off, the British ship Florida arrived, and was compelled to beat around waiting for a tug Volunteers were called for early in the morning to man the boat which it was proposed to send over the bar The call was promptly answered by the second mate and two seamen from the Florida and two sailors from the McNear, who expressed a willingness to attempt the passage. Provisions were placed in the small boat to last several days, also a compass with which the men were to direct their course. Thus equipped and prepared for what proved to be a most dangerous voyage, the men left the ships. From where the vessels were lying at the time to the "Head" was nearly three miles It was a bright and beautiful morning, and the men steered boldly for the cape, but the tide and wind caused them to veer farther from their course. Instead of going straight to the "Head" and passing in by the north channel, the boat "sagged" a long way toward the south, crossing all the lines of breakers and bringing up late in the afternoon at Fort Stevens How these courageous fellows managed to pass safely over the breakers which were rolling and dashing upon the sand spits, is one of the most astonishing things in the history of navigation. For a long distance there were lines of breakers sufficient to swamp even the most buoyant lifeboat, but the five men miraculously, or by exercising the greatest skill, coolness and presence of mind, accomplished the feat in a small boat. Wearied and well nigh exhausted with the long and rough pull, the party reached the fort about 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon. The Varuna was lying there, and the men, taking passage on that little steamer, came on to Astoria, where they informed the captains of the tugs of the arrival off the bar of the ships to which they belonged. However, the vessels were not towed over until the following Monday morning. When the men told how they came over the bar in a common Whitehall boat, the pilots and captains about town shook their heads incredulously, and wondered how such a voyage could possibly be made. It seems providential that the boat was not swamped and the crew lost.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS OF MR. WARREN'S DEATH.—E C H, our regular Astoria correspondent, furnishes the full details of the tragical death of Mr. George Warren, which are as follows

On Monday afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock some men employed [illegible] shop of Warren & Co., at [illegible] mill shop this, discovered the body of Mr. George W. Warren lying on the skid [illegible] which the logs are rolled, crushed [illegible] inches in diameter and 24 feet [illegible] was literally lying across his body [illegible] right only his head and shoulders [illegible] and a portion of his legs on the [illegible] pears that Mr. Warren left the [illegible] o'clock, saying he was going [illegible] skids. Shortly after his arrival at the spot, Peter Lilliquist, who was engaged in rolling up to the skidway, also arrived [illegible] log which caused the unfortunate [illegible] death, never saw Mr. Warren and [illegible] log down. The roll way not being [illegible] steep, the log lodged against the skids [illegible] the bottom a circumstance [illegible] recently occurs. Mr Warren stepped [illegible] and remarked to Peter, "That's a fine log, it will make good lumber," the last words he was ever heard to speak Some half or three-quarters of an hour after this, Angus Sutherland, a logger employed at the camp, arrived at the head of the skid-way. Looking around he saw nothing of Mr. Warren, but noticed a log lying in a place where it was likely to be rolled over by the logs Thinking this strange, he descended to where it lay, and there and then first discovered the fearful and fatal accident which had happened. Mr. Sutherland informed me that, in all probability, Mr. W [illegible] as was frequently his custom when a fine log was sent down, proceeded to measure it, to ascertain how much lumber it would make. Usually, when a log is brought to this skidway from the woods, it takes about twenty minutes before the teamster can arrive with another On this occasion Peter had started with two logs, the one rolled down, and another from which the dog had slipped but a few minutes before he reached the roll-way; consequently he had but a short trip to make to return with it, which he did in a short time and rolled it down after the [illegible] Mr Warren, and thought he had left "My informants say, however, that it is more than probable that Mr Warren was stooping down behind the butt of the first log when the second came down and thus the two were forced together, pushing him down and crushing him in a moment to death The lifeless body was brought to this city, where he resided during the night, and when the sad news was made known this morning, the whole community mourned the loss of a good and true neighbor and friend The funeral takes place from the Congregational church to-morrow. Mr Geo Warren was aged 41 years, arrived in Oregon in 1852, from Illinois, and leaves a wife and two children and many other relatives to mourn his irreparable loss

EXAMINED AND DISCHARGED.—A few weeks ago, three men—Cal. Mandeville, Edward Tierney and Henry Sanderson—were arrested at Fort Wrangel by the military authorities, and charged with the introduction of liquor into the Indian territory These persons were kept in close confinement in the guardhouse until the steamer California reached that place, when they were placed on board and brought down, arriving here on Tuesday night Yesterday morning the prisoners were handed over to the custody of the United States civil authorities for an examination and trial. In the afternoon, a preliminary hearing was had before Ralph Wilcox, United States commissioner There appearing little or no evidence in support of the charges preferred, the cases were dismissed on motion of the United States district attorney, and the prisoners immediately released

THE HEBREW NEW YEAR.—According to the Mosaic reckoning of the creation of the world, the Hebrew New Year, 5,636, commenced last evening Throughout the land the Hebrews do not transact any secular business until this evening, and the more orthodox will even keep two holy days Services were held in both synagogues in this city, commencing at 6 o'clock last evening At the Beth Israel synagogue, corner of Oak and Fifth streets, Rev Mr May will officiate—services at 8 and 10 Rabbi Aragar will officiate at the Ahaby Sholum synagogue corner of Pine and Sixth streets—services at 7 o'clock in the morning and preaching at 10 o clock

PASSENGERS.—A large number of passengers were brought down on the steamer California from Sitka and Wrangel Most of them, however, debarked at Victoria and Sound ports, only a few coming on through to Portland She brought the following passengers to this place Major Buckle, Major Boyle, W. Dean, Dr McKee, Mr, Lancaster and seven in the steerage

SINGING CLASS.—Prof D W Prentice held a preliminary meeting last evening, in the basement of the Taylor street M E church, for the purpose of organizing a class in vocal music There was a large number of persons in attendance and the prospects were quite flattering Next Wednesday evening the first regular lesson in vocal music will be given.

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 30, 1875.

CITY.

Columbia Bar Crossed in a Small Boat.—To the second mate of the ship Florida, two sailors from that vessel and two from the American ship McNear, belong the credit of having effected one of the most daring passages across the Columbia river bar which has probably ever been accomplished on the coast. These brave tars performed the perilous feat of crossing the bar from the open sea to Fort Stevens in a common Whitehall boat. On Wednesday morning—two weeks ago yesterday—the ship McNear hove in view of the Head (Cape Hancock) and drew as near the outer buoy as was deemed safe. The vessel continued to beat about some time waiting for the tug and pilot, but in vain. Capt. Carter concluded, on Friday morning, as no tug had yet put in an appearance, to send some of his men in a small boat to Astoria to apprise the owners of the Brenham and Astoria that a vessel was lying off and impatiently waiting to come in. He was a total stranger, and little dreamed of the danger attending such a voyage. Everything looked clear and smooth from the open sea beyond, and Captain Carter very naturally supposed the passage over the bar could be accomplished without risk. During the time the McNear was lying off, the British ship Florida arrived, and was compelled to beat around waiting for a tug. Volunteers were called for early in the morning to man the boat which it was proposed to send over the bar. The call was promptly answered by the second mate and two seamen from the Florida and two sailors from the McNear, who expressed a willingness to attempt the passage. Provisions were placed in the small boat to last several days, also a compass with which the men were to direct their course. Thus equipped and prepared for what proved to be a most dangerous voyage, the men left the ships. From where the vessels were lying at the time to the "Head" was nearly three miles. It was a bright and beautiful morning, and the party steered boldly for the Cape, but the tide and wind caused them to veer far from their course. Instead of going straight to the "Head" and passing in by the north channel the boat "zagged" a long way toward the south, crossing all the lines of breakers and bringing up late in the afternoon at Fort Stevens. How these courageous fellows managed to pass safely over the breakers which were rolling and dashing upon the sand spits, is one of the most astonishing things in the history of navigation. For a long distance there were lines of breakers sufficient to swamp even the most buoyant lifeboat, but the five men miraculously, or by exercising the greatest skill, coolness and presence of mind, accomplished the feat in a small boat. Wearied, and well nigh exhausted with the long and rough pull, the party reached the fort about 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon. The Varuna was lying there, and the men, taking passage on that little steamer, came on to Astoria, where they informed the captains of the tugs of the arrival off the bar of the ships to which they belonged. However, the vessels were not towed over until the following Monday morning. When the men told how they came over the bar in a common Whitehall boat, the pilots and captains about Astoria shook their heads incredulously, and wondered how such a voyage could possibly be made. It seems providential that the boat was not swamped and the crew lost.

Additional Particulars of Mr. Warren's Death.—E. C. H., our regular Astoria correspondent, furnishes the full details of the tragical death of Mr. George Warren, which are as follows:

"On Monday afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock some men employed at the logging camp of Warren & Co., at Knappa, 15 miles above this, discovered the body of Mr. George W. Warren lying on the skidway down which the logs are rolled, crushed by a large log 42 inches in diameter and 24 feet long, which was literally lying across his body, leaving in sight only his head and shoulders on one side and a portion of his legs on the other. It appears that Mr. Warren left the camp about 4 o'clock, saying he was going to grease the skids. Shortly after his arrival at this spot, Peter Lingoist, who was engaged in hauling logs to the skidway, also arrived with the log which caused the unfortunate man's death. Peter saw Mr. Warren and started the log down. The rollway not being very steep, the log lodged against the skids before reaching the bottom, a circumstance which frequently occurs. Mr. Warren stepped towards it, and remarked to Peter, 'That's a fine log and will make good lumber,' the last words he was ever heard to speak. Some half or three-quarters of an hour after this, Angus Sutherland, a logger employed at the camp, arrived at the head of the skidway. Looking around he saw nothing of Mr. Warren, but noticed a hat lying in a place where it was likely to be rolled over by the logs. Thinking this strange, he descended to where it lay, and there and then first discovered the fearful and fatal accident which had happened. Mr. Sutherland informed me that, in all probability, Mr. W. had, as was frequently his custom when a fine log was sent down, proceeded to measure it, to ascertain how much lumber it would make. Usually, when a log is brought to this skidway from the woods, it takes about twenty minutes before the teamster can arrive with another. On this occasion Peter had started with two logs, the one rolled down, and another from which the dog had slipped but a few minutes before he reached the roll-way; consequently he had but a short trip to make to return with it, which he did in a short time, and rolled it down after the other. At this time Peter did not see or hear Mr. Warren, and thought he had left. My informants say, however, that it is more than probable that Mr. Warren was stooping down behind the butt of the first log when the second one came down and thus the first was forced upon him, pushing him down and crushing him in a moment to death. The lifeless body was brought to this city, where he resided. During the night, and when the sad news was made known this morning, the whole community mourned the loss of a good and true neighbor and friend. The funeral takes place from the Congregational church to-morrow. Mr. Geo. Warren was aged 41 years, arrived in Oregon in 1852, from Illinois, and leaves a wife and four children and many other relatives to mourn his irreparable loss."

Examined and Discharged.—A few weeks ago, three men—Cal. Mandeville, Edward Varney and Henry Sanderson—were arrested at Fort Wrangel by the military authorities, charged with the introduction of liquor into an Indian territory. These persons were kept in close confinement in the guardhouse until the steamer California reached that place, when they were placed on board and brought down, arriving here on Tuesday night. Yesterday morning the prisoners were handed over to the custody of the United States civil authorities for an examination and trial. In the afternoon, a preliminary hearing was had before Ralph Wilcox, United States commissioner. There appearing little or no evidence in support of the charges preferred, the cases were dismissed on motion of the United States District Attorney, and the prisoners immediately released.

The Hebrew New Year.—According to the Mosaic reckoning of the creation of the world, the Hebrew New Year, 5,636, commenced last evening. Throughout the land the Hebrews do not transact any secular business until this evening, and the more orthodox will even keep two holy days. Services were held in both synagogues in this city, commencing at 6 o'clock last evening. At the Beth Israel synagogue, corner of Oak and Fifth streets, Rev. Mr. May will officiate—services at 8 o'clock in the morning and preaching at half past 10. Rabbi Aragar will officiate at the Ahavi Sholom synagogue, corner of Pine and Sixth streets—services at 7 o'clock in the morning, preaching at 10 o'clock.

Passengers.—A large number of passengers were brought down on the steamer California from Sitka and Wrangel. Most of them, however, debarked at Victoria and Sound ports, only a few coming on through to Portland. She brought the following passengers to this place: Major Ruckle, Major Boyle, W. Dean, Dr. McKee, Mr. Lancaster and seven in the steerage.

Singing Class.—Prof. D. W. Prentice held a preliminary meeting last evening, in the basement of the Taylor street M. E. church, for the purpose of organizing a class in vocal music. There was a large number of persons in attendance, and the prospects were quite encouraging. Next Wednesday evening the first regular lesson in vocal music will be given.

The Y. M. C. A.—Last evening the room over the Cosmopolitan Saloon was crowded by an audience of Christian folks and others who assembled to witness and participate in the exercises which were to occur, namely: the dedication of the room by the association. After singing, prayer and other introductory exercises, Rev. W. C. Chattin, the general secretary, made a brief and pointed address, relating his conversation with a person in the city jail, who, far from home, had sinned and now felt sorry for his misdemeanor. "There are many young men in the city who are going to ruin fast, but you people are unaware of it, as I am," he continued. President M. C. Wilkinson followed, remarking the object of the association, and making other statements of interest and instruction. Mr. Morse was pleased to see the unity of Christian fellowship manifest, and hoped it would long continue. Mr. E. Chambreau then related some of his startling adventures, the manner of his conversion, and his subsequent experience. He thought his conversion—being as it was, voluntary and uninfluenced by any one—to be almost as much of a miracle as Paul's, in Bible history. His remarks were edifying, and doubtless had a good influence. Rev. A. L. Lindsley addressed the assemblage, and said the Y. M. C. A. could perform labor which could not be easily accomplished by the churches. After the speaking several spirited songs were given, and the audience retired by benediction. Opening as it does under such apparent favorable auspices, this energetic society may consistently hope for a successful future.

An Unprovoked Assault.—Two boys, named Phillipi and Bulger, aged about 14 years, set upon a defenseless and unoffending Chinese boy, on Tuesday evening, and without the slightest provocation, maltreated him in a most brutal manner. The lad is in the employ of Mr. W. H. D. Joyce, and was sent out to look for a cow. When but a short distance from Mr. Joyce's residence, he was attacked by the young ruffians and inhumanly beaten. One eye and ear were considerably injured, and the boy's body bruised by the cruel blows dealt him. He would doubtless have been seriously injured had not his piteous cries brought several persons to the rescue. Both the young vandals left off beating the Chinese boy and took to their heels. Mr. Joyce preferred a charge against Phillipi and Bulger, accusing them of an aggravated assault. Yesterday Phillipi was arrested and taken to jail. Subsequently he was released on bonds until this morning, when the case will be investigated. Young Bulger has not been arrested, but he is likely to be captured at any time. Before these young ruffians get through with their little scrape they will be taught a severe lesson; and will learn to their cost that even a Chinaman can not be assaulted with impunity.

State Grange.—This body was in session yesterday at Masonic Hall, corner of Alder and Third streets. The several standing and special committees were busily engaged in making their respective reports, and consequently but little was done. Owing to the press of business, the secretary, J. H. Smith, Esq., has been unable to furnish us with a synopsis of the proceedings. That courteous officer has promised to furnish us with an abstract of the proceedings of the Grange today, which will be published in the next issue.

Battery Overhauled.—During the past two weeks Mr. John Crouch has been busily engaged in overhauling the large battery used in supplying the W. U. T. Co.'s lines with the electrical fluid, at the office in this city. On Tuesday Mr. Crouch completed his work. He has entirely renovated the battery, cleaning out and repainting the glass jars which contain the dissolved bluestone and copper, and making numerous improvements. The battery is now in better condition, and can grind out more "lightning" in a given length of time than ever before.

Wilson's Hippodrome Coming.—We are informed by a gentleman just from San Francisco that there is a probability of John Wilson paying us a visit with his palace amphitheater and colossal circus, and if he comes we are satisfied that he will give us a show unequaled, for his performances in San Francisco this season are highly spoken of by all who have visited his hippodrome.

Weather Report.—From the records of the U. S. Signal Station of Observation, Portland, Oregon, September 29, 1875:

	7 A. M.	2 P. M.	9 P. M.
Thermometer	59°	77°	66°
Wind, direction	N.	N.	N.
Wind, velocity	2	4	6
Weather	Foggy.	Smoky.	Heavy.
Maximum temperature			79°

New Route Agent.—Mr. D. H. Jones, who has recently been appointed route agent on the new postal service, established between this city and Astoria, will enter upon the duties of his position to-day. He will go down to day and return to-morrow. Mr. Tuttle, who is another agent on the same route, will go down the river to-morrow and return on Saturday.

Destructive Fire.—Last Tuesday night at 1 o'clock, the barn of G. A. Cone, Jr., 2½ miles south of Butteville, caught fire and was entirely consumed. Five head of horses, 1,400 bushels oats, a large quantity of hay, threshing machines, drills, harvesters and all other farming implements were burned. Loss about $4,000.

Troops.—Seventeen men, under command of Brevet Major Eagan, arrived here on the steamer Oriflamme, from San Francisco. These soldiers are a portion of Company M, 4th artillery, and are en route for Sitka. They will leave for the north on the steamer California.

A Good Idea.—In order to facilitate the work of distribution a postoffice clerk suggests that boxholders advise their correspondents to state number of box on their letters, which will be a great assistance to the clerks.

Renting of Pews.—This afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the pews in the First Presbyterian church will be rented for the ensuing year. All persons desirous of obtaining pews or sittings are requested to be present.

Real Estate Sold.—A. B. Richardson sold at auction yesterday morning lot 5, in block 29, Caruther's addition. The purchase price was $350.

AMUSEMENTS.

The ball given last evening at Good Templars' hall, under the auspices of the Liberal Association, for the benefit of Dr. J. L. York, was largely attended, and the proceeds were very substantial. Music, dancing and refreshments were the order of the evening.

Next Wednesday evening, October 6th, the first grand orchestral concert will be given by the Amateur Musical Society of Portland, at Masonic hall. On the occasion the orchestra will consist of eighteen performers. A very excellent programme, composed principally of selections from a number of the most popular operas, will be offered. The members who are to take part have been in careful course of preparation for weeks, and a most delightful musical treat can be expected. The price of admission is very low—only fifty cents,—but it will not serve to indicate that the performance will be a cheap one, by any means. Our musical-loving public will have an opportunity of listening to superb music for a nominal sum.

BALL AND BAT.

The Spartan club, of Vancouver, challenge the Arcadian club, of Portland, to play a series of match games, the first to be played at Vancouver on Saturday, the 2d prox.

Columbia county has at last caught the base ball fever. A few weeks since the Modoc B. B. club of Sauvie's Island, sent a challenge to the Red Oaks, of Scappoose, to play a game on Saturday, the 25th inst., which was accepted by the latter. The clubs met at the base ball grounds on Scappoose on that date. John McQuinn was chosen umpire. The game passed off pleasantly, the decisions of the umpire giving general satisfaction to both clubs. The game was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators, several ladies being present. Both clubs did some fine playing, but it was evident from the beginning that the Red Oaks were too much for the Modocs, who were badly beaten, the score standing: Red Oaks, 55; Modocs, 23.

Prof McGibeny, having been fairly crowded out of the Good Templars' Hall by the large audiences that have assembled there, has leased the Oro Fino Theater, where the Song Service will be held hereafter every Sunday evening.

BRIEF NOTES.

City full of strangers and the hotel-keepers are happy.

The California brought no late intelligence from Cassiar.

There is a message for Capt. Gordon at the W. U. T. Co.'s office.

The O. S. N. Co's line was down yesterday between Portland and the Dalles.

Five hundred and eighty-eight tons of assorted cargo were brought up on the steamer Oriflamme.

Mr. H. D. Green's residence, at the corner of First and D streets, is being raised and underpinned.

The docket to be disposed of at the coming term of the state circuit court promises to be quite light.

Capt. Douglas' ferryboat will commence to make regular trips to-day between this city and Albina.

Mrs. Smalden, the unfortunate inebriate, was arrested last evening in a maudlin state of intoxication and lodged in jail.

The office of R. G. Dun & Co., mercantile agency, has been removed to Opitz's building, First street, between Pine and Ash.

Not a sail was in sight when the steamer California crossed the bar on Tuesday, although several vessels are now due here.

The addition to the southern wing of the asylum has been enclosed. Contractors are busily engaged in finishing the interior of the building.

Latest advices from Cassiar state that the weather has commenced to turn quite cold, and mining and prospecting will soon close for the present season.

The festival given on Tuesday evening at the Hall-street M. E. church was a pleasantly and successfully conducted affair. Quite a handsome sum was realized.

The steamer Gussie Telfair did not depart on Tuesday evening for the Columbia river bar to make soundings, as was expected. She went down the river last evening.

The following notice was written on a bulletin board in a town not a thousand miles from Portland: "Notise The will Be a social Hop at the Hall this Saturday, evening Public are Envited."

Attorneys should remember that complaints ought to be filed in the office of the county clerk on or before to-morrow, as that is the last day of service for cases which are to come up for trial at the ensuing term of the state circuit court.

The land mentioned in Monday's issue of this paper as having been sold at Buena Vista on Saturday last by Mr. A. B. Richardson, was the property of the Grand Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Oregon, and was sold for the benefit of that body, under the direction of Grand Master J. B. Congle.

MILITARY NOTES.

The commanding officer, Fort Canby, W. T., will detail an officer from his post to report to the commanding officer, Fort Stevens, temporarily, for garrison court-martial duty at that post.

Captain Harry M. Smith, 21st Infantry, is appointed to act as inspector on certain medical and hospital property at Fort Lapwai, I. T., for which Acting Assistant Surgeon Geo. C. Douglas, post surgeon, is accountable.

Captain Wm. McC. Netterville, 21st Infantry, is appointed to act as inspector on certain camp and garrison equipage at Fort Vancouver, W. T., for which 2d Lieut. Joseph W. Duncan, 21st Infantry, commanding Company H, is accountable.

DOWN-RIVER NOTES.

A note from Astoria, dated Sept. 28th, says:

Weather fine, many of the oldest inhabitants praying for rain to fill their water tanks. Astoria Water Co. reported bursted.

W. R. T. Co.'s barge Columbia's Chief parted center hog chain to-day while discharging cargo. Damage inconsiderable. She will be repaired and leave here for Portland to-morrow evening. Competent judges say she came down with at least 60 tons more grain in her than was healthy for her back.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A. B. Richardson will hold a special sale this (Thursday) morning, at 10 o'clock, at the corner of Alder and Third streets.

We noticed in front of The Home agency, Morrison and Third streets, yesterday, a new sewing machine wagon, manufactured by Pope & Winset, of this city. We infer the the agent of this favorite machine and the New Home Shuttle is doing a thriving business from the number of machines sent out every week. The agent, Mr. Traver, informs us that he has just received samples of a new two spool machine, which makes chain embroidery and lock stitch.

Go then and get your clothing at the emporium of Beck & Waldman, who are offering rare bargains to all who are short of cash. They are well supplied, and can do the square thing with you.

The Elmwood collar, with all the edges folded, will fit better and wear longer than any other. Prove this by trying.

Tom O'Brien did not go to the fair, but remains to wait on his customers.

If you are hungry, indulge in Fabre & Barnes' coffee and lunches, Central Market.

Parties interested will note advertisement of Mr. Walter F. Jones, relative to time of accounts due Mr. S. L. Marsh, lately in the dry goods business on Front and Stark streets.

G. W. Walling & Son, Willamette Nursery, will be prepared to take orders for fruit trees, at the Hillsboro fair and also at the state fair.

The office and warerooms of the Oregon Furniture Manufacturing Company have been removed to their new building, First and Yamhill streets.

The first invoice of fall and winter goods arrived on the last steamer and are now arranged in order so that JOS. KOHN'S numerous customers can call and see all that is new and attractive in the clothing line. The styles displayed are the very latest in the market and must prove quite saleable. Fresh arrivals every steamer, selected expressly for the trade by Mr. Kohn, who knows just what will please his patrons. Call to-day and make your purchases.

Personal.—Mr. M. Rosenblatt, of 79 Front street, returned last evening on the John L. Stephens, from San Francisco, with a large stock of Clothing, etc., for gentlemen and youths. His stock is worthy of inspection by all who desire a first-class article. Be sure and call on him, and recollect the number.

PLEASURE BOATS.

I have a number of Sail and Row Boats ready at any moment to let at reasonable charges. Boats made to order.

JOHN LACHAPELLE,
Foot of Pine St.

BECK & WALDMAN have added largely to their stock of Clothing during the past week. Mr. Beck has selected many new and attractive styles and forwarded the first purchases, which are really the best to be seen in Portland. The variety of styles for youths are numerous, and no parent should fail to examine the arrivals. Take your boy and have him fitted. The firm have an immense stock for the fall and winter and offer special inducements to all.

A Popular Error Corrected.

It is an absurd but very common error to suppose that a disordered condition of the liver can be remedied by a simple cathartic. Such is, however, far from being the case. Cathartics do not touch the liver at all. It is only when (as in the case of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters) the laxative principle is combined with tonic and stimulative elements, that the great secretive gland is directly acted upon. The Bitters, although sufficiently laxative to relieve the bowels moderately, do not owe their anti-bilious effects to purgation merely, but to their power of rousing the liver from its inaction and impelling it to secrete and distribute the bile in sufficient quantities for the purposes of digestion and evacuation. Its effect upon the stomach and bowels is such as to ensure the regular discharge of the functions named and prevent abstraction or vitiation of the biliary fluid—in other words, to secure entire co-operation with the liver.

For Throat Diseases and Affections of the chest, "Browns' Bronchial Troches" are of value. For Coughs, Irritation of the Throat caused by cold, or Unusual Exertion of the vocal organs, in speaking in public, or singing, they produce beneficial results.

In Forty-eight hours a cough may become dangerous; but within that time any cough can be cured by the use of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. Sold by all druggists.

NEMESIS AND A WATCH-TINKER.

Woe worth the way in which the simple Jabez Peters fared!
Woe worth the day which Jabez went to have his watch repaired—
By a nefarious watch-tinker insidiously ensnared.

It was a fine chronometer before that wretch begun;
But long before his feats, with its interior were done,
It was the craziest "whirligig of time" that ever run.

What boots it to retail the tricks of that artificer—
His wretched, knavish tampering with that chronometer,
Which caused J. Peters to become a frequent customer?

How jewels were abstracted and their place supplied by paste,
How wheels were bruised and pinions bent and balance wheels misplaced?—
Who hath not, by such tinkers, had his faith in man erased?

Suffice it, that with Jabez, "time was out of joint," straightway!
His watch kept "time that tried men's souls" and, in the shortest day,
'T would mark more hours than there are in "a cycle of Cathay."

Or else 'twould "take no note of time, but from its loss." Again
'Twould stop; and Jabez Peters, as he wound it up in vain,
Would apostrophise watch-tinkers in rhetoric profane.

Misled by its caprices Jabez often missed the train,
Church time, meal times or banking hours he couldn't ascertain,
And folks began to intimate that Jabez was insane.

Cold victuals and protested notes made Jabez drop his jaw;
But when he missed the funeral of his dear mother-in law,
That was a disappointment that touched him "on the raw."

Still that nefarious tinker, with impudence sublime,
Bamboozled Jabez Peters and grew "rich with spoils of time,"
Till Jabez and his watch together were not worth a dime.

At last that watch-tinker fell sick. His life hung by a thread.
Was it a special providence, or merely chance, that led
His friends to ask J. Peters to watch beside his bed?

Once every hour, the doctor said, the potion should be given,
And Jabez timed it by his watch, which in each hour made seven;—
That tinker left for parts unknown, some time before eleven!

The coroner's jury argued thus: That tinker had not died
If he hadn't fuddled J. P.'s watch until it basely lied.
So they found that tinker guilty of "constructive suicide."

—Frank Clive.

AN INDIAN LOCHINVAR.

It was a long time before any one settled in the vicinity of Jim Geary's ranche, in Southern Kansas, on Running Turkey Creek, a branch of the Little Kansas river. For years Jim Geary had lived there alone, and entertained trains and transient travelers. He always, however, lived in hopes of seeing a village spring up around him, and the machinery of society set a-going. He did not hope in vain. When the Indians cleared out, white men came and squatted and farmed, and built and grew rich. Among others was a family named Falconer, from Ohio. They were nice people, and there was a daughter in the family named Bessie; a pretty girl and one who might some day make a wedding necessary at Geary's ranch in the former solitude of Running Turkey Creek. There never had been a wedding there, and Bessie Falconer was seventeen, and ripe and ready. There is nothing that christens a new town so sweetly and effectively as a civilized wedding, and nothing confirms the christening so pleasantly as the first birth in it. When people should say they were married at Geary's ranche, and others could say they were born there, it would begin to realize the dream of old Jimmy Geary that his ranche would be a notable place.

Bessie Falconer had two lovers. One was a well-to-do neighboring farmer's son, and the other was a lazy, worthless Cheyenne Indian, who lingered in the precincts of Running Turkey Creek after all the rest of his tribe had gone. He was like one who trod alone the scalping ground deserted. Bessie made her choice, and Lo, the poor Indian, was left out in the cold. She engaged to marry the young farmer, and the day was set, and large preparations were made, and everybody contributed to the wedding celebration except the lazy Cheyenne Indian, and he hung around as sulky and sullen and dark as a threatening cloud. The day came, and so did the expectant bridegroom and wedding guests. The hour arrived, but no bride appeared. Her mother went to her room to summon her to the sacrament, but no bride, dressed and blushing, was there. It was early twilight. The astonished old lady looked out of the open window and saw, rapidly disappearing through the timber of the creek shore, a man carrying a load in his arms. The alarm was given, and the whole wedding party, all armed, started in pursuit. The bridegroom, fleet as an antelope, was soon within gunshot, but was afraid to shot, for he recognized in the load the lovely form of the bride. The bearer of the sweet burden was the Cheyenne Indian, who seemed to have laid aside his laziness for this special occasion. The bridegroom grappled with the Indian, and wrested the bride from those savage arms. The Cheyenne Indian broke loose and ran, but a ball from the backwoodsman's rifle brought him to a halt. The ball entered the Indian's thigh, and made him docile. He was captured and chained in a dug-out, but escaped during the night, and has not since been seen on Running Turkey Creek. The bride was carried home insensible, and has since been raving in the delirium of a brain fever. There was no wedding at Geary's ranche that night, and the fond hopes of the little community were blasted. The guests had, however, some compensatory excitement. The stirring events of the evening proved that the little settlement on Running Turkey Creek was not quite ripe for a wedding. But it may be happy yet.

THE CEDARS OF LEBANON.—The cedars of Lebanon, once the glory of the earth, have become like a history of the past. Time was when their widespread branches, each forming a green plateau, one above the other, flourished in all their luxuriance and beauty on the far-famed mountain of Lebanon. That was the time when the monarch of Tyre—a city then the queen of nations—sent thousands of his workmen to fell cedars for the construction of the Temple of Jerusalem. Those who would view the cedars of Lebanon now must be somewhat affected by the fewness of their number, and their decay and desolation. A little remnant is left, and the traveler gazes upon them with a feeling that has in it a touch of sadness. All through the Middle Ages a visit to the cedars of Lebanon was regarded by many persons in the light of a pilgrimage. Some of the trees were thought to have been planted by King Solomon himself, and were looked upon as sacred relics. Indeed, the visitors took away so many pieces of wood from the bark, of which to make crosses and other articles, that it was feared the trees would be destroyed. The once magnificent grove is but a speck on the mountain side. Many persons have taken it in the distance for a wood of fir trees; but on approaching nearer and taking a closer view, the trees resume somewhat of their ancient majesty. The space they cover is not more than half a mile; but once amidst them, the beautiful fan-like branches overhead, the exquisite green of the younger trees, and the colossal size of the older ones, fills the mind with interest and admiration. The trees are fast disappearing from the face of the earth. Each succeeding traveler finds them fewer in number than his predecessor. There are now but seven of the cedars remaining, which, from their age and experience, indicate that they had an existence in Bible days.—The Day of Days.

There have been some pretty high expectations entertained of the fall trade this year, but we are sorry that they are not being more rapidly realized. Six weeks ago it was expected that the movement of the fall crops would soon put the entire country on a good business footing, and many less sanguine persons are disposed to say that now the crops having all been harvested, the "good time coming" ought to "cast its shadow before." The movement of the crops is the old fashioned legitimate machinery by which to get money into circulation and thus increase the debt paying and purchasing power of the people, especially in the agricultural localities. That this would be a vital step towards improvement in trade, none will deny, following as it does two years of great economy, and in view of the moderate stocks of merchandise and low prices for nearly all staple goods. Should this forward movement of the products take place at an early day and in large volume, manufacturing and importing interests ought to be much benefited by the absorption of accumulated stocks of goods, and the whole country to feel the thrill of a new life in business. We are therefore on the eve of a most important and critical season in the commercial history of the country, and close observers will watch with some anxiety the indications which the next few weeks will afford.

In San Francisco financial affairs are said to be mending slowly, but mending nevertheless. Money is plenty and scarce—paradoxical but true. Plenty in banks, who hold on to every dollar, for fear of what might come, granting their customers but restricted facilities; scarce for outsiders, who, in order to raise money, have to pledge their securities at round rates or sell them low. Until the 4th October, the opening day of the big banks, money will remain tight; from then on, it will gradually ease up, and, with confidence restored, will rule low by the 1st of December. The Bank of California will open on Saturday, the 2d, and the Bank of Nevada, as previously announced, on the 4th of October, with an amount of coin on hand larger than its total capital. The San Francisco Stock Board will almost certainly meet on the same day for regular business. By that time more gold will be available than has been for many months. The Mint is hard at work. Coin is on the way from New York, and those in our midst, who have been hoarding gold, will find the present a better opportunity for investing it than is likely to occur again in a very long time. The money that went into the country to move the crops is already beginning to find its way back, and soon it will flow inwards in quite a steady volume.

In local financial circles there are many who are relying on the developments in the San Francisco market, to infuse new life into money matters here and the intimate relations between the two places afford good reason to believe that a favorable influence will be exerted on affairs here by the release of the large sums expected to be disbursed by the various monetary institutions of that city.

Foreign Wheat Markets.

Beerbohm's London and Liverpool wheat telegrams, of September 24th, quote floating cargoes rather easier; cargoes on passage, slow: No. 2, spring off coast, 43s; California off coast, 52s; California for shipment, 52s; No. 2 spring, for shipment, 42s. Liverpool market dull. California club, 10s 11d@11s 4d; California average, 10s 8d@11s; red Western spring, 8s 6d@9s 7d. Farmers' deliveries of wheat in England for week, 50,000 qrs. Imports of wheat into the United Kingdom for week, 365,000 qrs; imports of flour into the United Kingdom for week, 70,000 bbls.

The latest advices from England give out that, while the wheat supply is not yet materially deficient, a deficiency increasing in almost geometrical ratio can be counted on, and it is even anticipated that the ordinary imports of cereals may not meet the demand. England may thus be expected to make a more than usual draft on America, while there is every prospect of there being comparative scarcity on the continent before the winter is over. In anticipation of this state of things, holders at Odessa still maintain prices, notwithstanding the downward tendency in other markets, caused by an apparent increase over the yield anticipated, and their action will before long affect prices all over Europe. This again will cause a demand for American products even sooner than required by actual need, and, furthermore, will probably go into operation very soon.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship California, from Sitka, arrived at an early hour this morning, and is discharging at the Co.'s wharf.

The steamship Oriflamme, hence for San Francisco, will sail at 4 P. M., on Friday, carrying freight and passengers.

The schr Perpetua will go down the river the latter part of this week with a cargo of grain.

The Br ship City of Hankow, at Astoria, has finished loading.

The ships Rosa Welt and Florida are discharging ballast at the Farmers' dock, Astoria.

The ships Berar and City of Amoy were anchored in the stream at Astoria, yesterday, awaiting the balance of their cargoes.

The Br bark Dilharree, at Astoria, has about 500 tons of her cargo on board.

PROPOSALS

For Work and Material for the State Capitol Building, at Salem, Oregon.

BIDS WILL BE RECEIVED FOR PLASTERing, Carpenter work, Plumbing and Painting on the State Capitol, at the office of the Board of Commissioners for the erection of said building at Salem, Oregon, on the 15th day of October, 1875, to be opened at one o'clock P. M., on said day.

For plans and specifications of said work, bidders are referred to the office of W. W. Piper, architect, where said plans and specifications will all be complete on or before the 1st of October next.

Plasterers to furnish all materials. Carpenters to furnish all material except flooring and glass for the windows, doors and transoms.

Plumbers and Painters to furnish all materials.

Bids will be received for the plastering carpenter work, plumbing and painting for the whole together, and for each separately. Said bids must be accompanied by an undertaking with two or more sureties of not less than five per cent. of the amount of said bid; conditioned that if the contract be awarded to said bidder, he will enter into bonds for the faithful performance of said contract.

The Board reserve the right to reject any and all bids that shall, in their judgment, not be accompanied with sufficient sureties, and also to reject all bids. By order of the Board.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed and of great benefit they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY RELIEF OF

Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

Has been widely used during the last twenty-five years, in the treatment of these distressing diseases, and with such unvarying success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible. The shakes, or chills, once broken by it, do not return, until the disease is contracted again. This has made it an accepted remedy, and trusted specific, for the Fever and Ague of the West, and the Chills and Fever of the South.

Ayer's Ague Cure eradicates the noxious poison from the system, and leaves the patient as well as before the attack. It thoroughly expels the disease, so that Liver Complaints, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dysentery or Debility follow the cure. Indeed, where Disorders of the Liver and Bowels have occurred from Miasmatic Poison, it removes the cause of them and they disappear. Not only is it an effectual cure, but if taken occasionally by patients exposed to malaria it will expel the poison and protect them from attack. Travelers and temporary residents in Fever and Ague localities are thus enabled to defy the disease. The General Debility which is so apt to ensue from continued exposure to Malaria and Miasm, has no speedier remedy.

For Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy.
